Item 1. Security and Issuer

The class of equity security to which this statement on Schedule 13D relates is the common stock (the “Securities”) of Dell Inc., a Delaware corporation (the “Issuer”). The Issuer has its principal executive offices located at One Dell Way, Round Rock, Texas 78682.

Item 2. Identity and Background

Subparagraphs (a), (b), and (c). This statement is being filed by Southeastern Asset Management, Inc. (“Southeastern”), an investment advisor registered with the Securities & Exchange Commission under the Investment Advisers Act of 1940, as amended. The address of its principal office is 6410 Poplar Avenue, Suite 900, Memphis, Tennessee 38119. Southeastern serves as an investment advisor to various individual clients, institutions including qualified retirement plans, endowment funds and to Longleaf Partners Fund and Longleaf Partners International Fund, a series of Longleaf Partners Funds Trust, a registered investment company organized as a Massachusetts business trust and having four series or portfolios.

The Securities of the Issuer reported in Item 5 herein were acquired on behalf of the investment advisory clients of Southeastern, including Longleaf Partners Fund and Longleaf Partners International Fund, under sole or shared discretionary authority granted Southeastern. None of the Securities are owned by or on behalf of Southeastern or by any of its directors or officers, or any Trustees or officers of Longleaf.

This statement is also being filed by Mr. O. Mason Hawkins, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of Southeastern, in the event he could be deemed to be an indirect beneficial owner of the Securities reported by Southeastern through the exercise of voting control and/or dispositive power over the Securities as the result of his official positions or ownership of voting securities of Southeastern. Neither Southeastern nor Mr. Hawkins owns any Securities for its or his own account and each disclaims beneficial interest in any of the Securities reported herein.

The names, business addresses, present principal occupation or employment and citizenship of each director and executive officer of Southeastern are set forth in Schedule I and incorporated herein by reference.

(d) During the last five years, neither Southeastern nor Mr. Hawkins has been convicted in any criminal proceeding (excluding traffic violations or similar misdemeanors).

(e) During the last five years, neither Southeastern nor Mr. Hawkins has been a party to any civil or administrative proceeding involving any alleged violations of any securities laws.

(f) Southeastern is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Tennessee. Mr. Hawkins is a citizen of the United States.

Item 3. Source and Amount of Funds or Other Consideration

The respective investment advisory clients of Southeastern used approximately $2,277,215,983 in the aggregate to purchase the Securities reported in this filing. All assets used to purchase Securities were assets of these respective clients and none were assets of Southeastern. In addition, none of the proceeds used to purchase the Securities were provided through borrowings of any nature.

Item 4. Purpose of Transaction

The Securities reported in this filing have been purchased and held for investment purposes on behalf of client accounts over which Southeastern has either sole or shared discretionary investment or voting power. The Securities are reported by Southeastern and by Mr. Hawkins, in the event that either should be deemed to be a member of a group under Section 13(d)(3) or the beneficial owner of these Securities under the provisions of subparagraph (b) of Rule 13d-3 under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934. Beneficial ownership on the part of Southeastern and Mr. Hawkins as members of a group or as beneficial owners is expressly disclaimed, as permitted by Rule 13d-4. All purchases of Securities were made for investment purposes only, in the ordinary course of business of Southeastern as a registered investment advisor. Southeastern may purchase additional Securities on behalf of clients in the future, or may sell all or a part of the current holdings of the Securities.

Southeastern is engaged in the business of investment management of its clients' assets and pursues an investment philosophy of identifying undervalued situations and acquiring positions in undervalued companies on behalf of its clients. In pursuing this investment philosophy, Southeastern analyzes the operations, capital structure and markets of companies in which its clients invest and continuously monitors the business operations of such companies through analysis of financial statements and other public documents, through discussions with knowledgeable industry observers, and with management of such companies, often at management's invitation.

Southeastern qualifies as an institution which may elect to file securities ownership reports required by the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 on Schedule 13G and, as a routine matter, Southeastern utilizes Schedule 13G for its reporting of the ownership positions held by its investment advisory clients. As the result of investment analysis or the occurrence of events, Southeastern may desire to participate in discussions with the particular portfolio company's management or with third parties about significant matters in which Southeastern may suggest possible courses of action to assist in building corporate intrinsic value per share or to cause the Company's true economic value to be recognized. In such situations, Southeastern may elect to convert a filing on Schedule 13G to a filing on Schedule 13D in order to be more active in corporate governance and management matters, and to have the ability to enter into discussions with third parties concerning proposed corporate transactions of a significant nature.

On February 5, 2013, the Issuer announced that it had signed a definitive merger agreement pursuant to which Michael Dell, together with Silver Lake Partners, intend to cash-out existing stockholders of the Issuer at a per share price of $13.65 in a "going private" transaction. In response to such announcement, on February 8, 2013, Southeastern sent a letter to the Board of Directors of the Issuer expressing its extreme disappointment in the per share price of $13.65, which Southeastern believes grossly undervalues the Issuer. The letter also expressed Southeastern's current intent to vote against the proposed transaction as currently structured. The letter further stated that Southeastern currently intends to avail itself of all options at its disposal to oppose the proposed transaction, including but not limited to a proxy fight, litigation claims and any available Delaware statutory appraisal rights. A copy of the letter is attached hereto as Schedule III. Southeastern hereby reserves the right to discuss various alternatives, including any of the actions described in clauses (a) through (j) of Item 4 of Schedule 13D.

Item 5. Interest In Securities Of The Issuer

(a) The aggregate number and percentage of Securities to which this Schedule 13D relates is 147,276,224 shares of the common stock of the Issuer, constituting approximately 8.5% of the 1,738,600,597 shares outstanding. This amount includes 25,000,000 in Securities underlying shares in options, but excludes 6,476,800 European style options that are only exercisable on the expiration date of the options and will not be exercisable within the next 60 days. The calculation of the foregoing percentage is based on the number of shares disclosed as outstanding as of February 3, 2013 by the Issuer in its current report on Form 8-K, and filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on February 6, 2013.

(b) Southeastern generally has the sole power to dispose of or to direct the disposition of the Securities held for discretionary accounts of its investment clients, and may be granted the sole power to vote or direct the vote of such Securities; such powers may be retained by or shared with the respective clients for shared or non-discretionary accounts. Shares held by any Series of Longleaf Partners Funds Trust are reported in the “shared” category.

(c) Purchase or sale transactions in the Securities during the past sixty days are disclosed on Schedule II.

(d) The investment advisory clients of Southeastern have the sole right to receive and, subject to notice, to withdraw the proceeds from the sale of the Securities, and the sole power to direct the receipt of dividends from any of the Securities held for their respective accounts. Such clients may also terminate the investment advisory agreements without penalty upon appropriate notice. Southeastern does not have an economic interest in any of the Securities reported herein.

(e) Not applicable.

Item 6. Contracts, Arrangements, Understandings or

Relationships with Respect to Securities of the Issuer

The powers of disposition with respect to Securities owned by discretionary private accounts of Southeastern are established in written investment advisory agreements between clients and Southeastern, which are entered into in the normal and usual course of the business of Southeastern as a registered investment advisor and which are generally applicable to all securities purchased for the benefit of each such discretionary private account.

The written investment advisory agreements with clients generally do not contain provisions relating to borrowing of funds to finance the acquisition of the Securities, acquisition of control, transfer of securities, joint ventures, or any of the other transactions listed in the instructions to Item 7 of Schedule 13D other than voting of proxies. In connection with voting, Southeastern may be allowed or directed to vote the proxies received by accounts classified as “discretionary” or “shared” accounts; such authority is generally retained by the clients for accounts classified as “non-discretionary.”

The Longleaf Partners Fund and the Longleaf Partners International Fund have entered into over-the-counter derivative instruments on the Issuer. In a series of transactions, the Longleaf Partners Fund purchased 12,500,000 December 2015 call options on the Issuer at a strike price of $7.00 from each of Counterparty 1 and Counterparty 2 for a total of 25,000,000 options. A copy of the Counterparty 1 and Counterparty 2 call option trade confirmations have been attached hereto as Schedules IV and V, respectively.

In addition, the Longleaf Partners International Fund entered into an over-the-counter put/call option combination transaction on the Issuer with Counterparty 3. The Longleaf Partners International Fund purchased 6,476,800 August 2016 call options on the Issuer at a strike price of $15.50 while simultaneously selling 6,476,800 August 2016 put options on the Issuer to Counterparty 3 at the same strike price. The put and the call option are both European style options and are only exercisable on the expiration date of the options.

SCHEDULE III

February 8, 2013

Board of Directors
Dell Inc.
One Dell Way
Round Rock, TX 78682
Attention: Lawrence P. Tu
Senior Vice President, General Counsel and Secretary

Dear Board of Directors:

Southeastern Asset Management, Inc. beneficially owns on behalf of its investment advisory clients approximately 8.5% of Dell's outstanding shares (including options), making us your largest outside shareholder. We are writing to express our extreme disappointment regarding the proposed go-private transaction, which we believe grossly undervalues the Company. We also write to inform you that we will not vote in favor of the proposed transaction as currently structured. We retain and intend to avail ourselves of all options at our disposal to oppose the proposed transaction, including but not limited to a proxy fight, litigation claims and any available Delaware statutory appraisal rights.

We expect the Board of Directors to perform its responsibility to thoroughly review all alternatives to the proposed transaction to deliver maximum value to Dell's public shareholders. We would have endorsed a transformative transaction that would have provided full and fair value to Dell's public shareholders, including a leveraged recapitalization or a go-private type sale where current shareholders could elect to continue to participate in a new company with a public stub. Unfortunately, the proposed Silver Lake transaction falls significantly short of that, and instead appears to be an effort to acquire Dell at a substantial discount to intrinsic value at the expense of public shareholders.

The Board of Directors has a fiduciary duty to consider any transaction, and particularly an insider transaction such as this, in light of what is in the best interest of all of Dell's shareholders. We believe that the proposed transaction, under which Dell's public shareholders would receive only $13.65 per share, clearly represents an opportunistically timed bid to take the Company private at a valuation far below Dell's intrinsic value, and deprives public shareholders of the ability to participate in the Company's substantial future value creation. Specifically, the following supports our valuation analysis:

Southeastern believes that straightforward, modest valuations of Dell result in per share valuations vastly in excess of the $13.65 offer price. Net cash per share after deducting structured debt within Dell Financial Services (DFS) is $3.64. Dell Financial Services has a book value of $1.72 per share. In addition, since Michael Dell resumed his role as CEO in 2007, the Company has spent $13.7 billion or $7.58 per share on acquisitions intended to transform the Company into a sustainable IT business and lessen its reliance on the PC business. During Dell's June 2012 analyst day, Dell Chief Financial Officer Brian Gladden said that in aggregate the acquisitions to that point had delivered a 15% internal rate of return. The Company has neither taken nor discussed the need to take any write downs of these acquisitions. We therefore conservatively believe the acquisitions are worth a minimum of their cost. Taken together, these items total $12.94 per share before we even look at the other businesses.

The current bid therefore places a value of less than $1.00 per share on the remainder of the Company. By any objective measure, that is woefully inadequate. Specifically, none of the following are accounted for above:

- As one of the dominant players in X86 servers, including the DCS division serving “hyperscale” customers, the server business alone is easily worth $8.0 billion, or $4.44 per share. This value excludes the results of SonicWall, Wyse and Quest which are included in the “Acquisitions” total above and which are carried in the “Servers and Networking” division.*
- The part of the “Services” segment not captured in the “Acquisitions” line above consists mainly of Dell’s “support and deployment” activities. This business has less correlation with the PC business and more closely follows the expansion of data center activity. In the last quarter, a quarter in which PC revenue declined by 19%, this support and deployment business grew by 5%. Estimates of its revenues are approximately $4.8 billion, at which we believe it would produce at least $1.0 billion of operating income. This operating income should be assigned a higher multiple than that attributed to the PC business. Our estimate of its value is at least $7.0 billion, or $3.89 per share.*
- The PC business generates roughly $27.0 billion of revenue and we estimate approximately $1.3 billion of operating profit. While we could accept the most bearish case in assuming the “death of the PC,” this business is certainly worth more than zero. Even the PC’s harshest critics would accept that the PC will be around for more than a few years. A multiple of operating income of 4 gives this business a value of approximately $5.0 billion, or $2.78 per share. We would note that Lenovo (primarily a PC company), with net income of around $700 million, has a market value of $11.0 billion.*
- The Software and Peripherals segment not captured above should be worth at least $3.0 billion, or $1.67 per share, which works out to a multiple of less than 7 times operating income.*
- We subtract $1.00 per share to account for capitalized unallocated expenses.*

Adding the value of these operating segments to the $12.94 outlined above and subtracting out an estimated $1.00 per share of DFS value embedded within the segments yields a total corporate value approaching $24.00 per share. This obviously exceeds the $13.65 offer and does not even take into account Dell’s strong product distribution capability, especially in the small to medium size business space (SMB). This SMB distribution strength is the result of the Company’s heritage and legacy of selling directly to the end customer. Competitors like HP, IBM, Oracle, and Cisco do not have comparable distribution strength in SMB. This competitive advantage should enable Dell to continue to be able to sell its portfolio of enterprise solutions and services to a growing SMB market.

(see page 6 for footnotes)

In short, the evidence is overwhelming that shareholders are being deprived of their proportionate share of the Company's true value, which is much more than $13.65 per share.

We believe the Board of Directors had several alternatives that would have produced a far better outcome for public shareholders than the proposed transaction.

One alternative the Board of Directors could have implemented instead of approving the Silver Lake transaction is a leveraged recapitalization that would have facilitated the payment of a special dividend to public shareholders. As opposed to forcing shareholders out at $13.65, this option would have allowed all shareholders to receive a large cash payment while retaining ownership of significant future cash flow streams. The revenue mix of Dell's business has changed as a result of strategic acquisitions, resulting in the fact that roughly half of the annual free cash flow generated comes from higher growth enterprise businesses while the other half comes from legacy businesses linked to the PC.

As highlighted in an example below, the Company could have paid shareholders a substantial special dividend (close to $12.00 per share in the example below) while still retaining the ability to generate anywhere from $1.14 to $1.34 per share of free cash flow per year (same as the Company's measure of "non-GAAP" earnings). Using the midpoint of the free cash flow range of $1.24 based on the estimates below, the Company would produce over $2.2 billion in free cash flow annually. This level of cash flow generation provides interest coverage of 4:1 based on the numbers below. There are other variations of this general idea, such as a larger immediate dividend and smaller resulting free cash flow. The Company could have undertaken the following three steps to create the ability to pay a special dividend:

- 1) Realize stated book value for DFS, while maintaining origination, servicing, and the strategic customer relationship. This would mean proceeds of roughly $3.1 billion (DFS receivables less associated structured financing debt).
- 2) Pay the federal corporate tax to bring home offshore cash. This would raise at least $9.25 billion of cash for payout while obviously eliminating any future interest income. If the Company were to explore ways to move the overseas cash back in a more tax efficient manner, then the special dividend could be increased by the amount of tax saved.
- 3) Undertake new borrowings of $9.0 billion, with an expected interest rate of 7%.

Implementing these three steps could produce a special dividend of almost $12.00 per share:

(in millions of USD, except per share item)
DFS proceeds	$	3,100
Foreign cash realized after tax		9,250
New borrowings		9,000
Available for special dividend		21,350
Shares, RSUs, and in-the-money options		1,800
Potential dividend per share	$	11.86

However, even after this special dividend, an amount that represents 85% of the buying group's offer, there would still be available to shareholders well over $1.00 of free cash flow per share:

A second alternative the Board of Directors could have implemented instead of approving the Silver Lake transaction is another form of recapitalization that would be a Dutch auction or some other structure that would allow shareholders to tender shares for cash based on a price or range of prices for a determined amount of shares. In this form of recapitalization, instead of using the cash specified in the example above for a dividend, the Company would use that cash systematically to repurchase shares from those holders desiring to sell. The effect would be a dramatic reduction in the share count which would leave the remaining holders with increased ownership of the free cash flow stream cited above.

We understand that Michael Dell is not bound to the Silver Lake transaction and can participate in facilitating a superior offer. We are concerned that given the participation of Michael Dell in this transaction, that a traditional go shop process is not sufficient to ensure that the Company receives superior offers. Specifically, as stated above, our value for the entire Company is approximately $24.00 per share, but we also believe that selling multiple business units to strategic buyers could easily exceed $13.65 per share.

Additionally, the Board of Directors should aggressively seek a proposal that differs from Silver Lake's thereby not forcing public shareholders to sell for a price so far below a reasonable valuation. A different buyer could serve the same purpose as Silver Lake, undertake similar leverage, but importantly and more fairly, could allow a reasonable percentage of the "rolled-in" equity to come from existing shareholders who choose to do so. While functioning much like a typical private equity transaction, this would actually leave a public "stub," which would allow public shareholders to remain investors in Dell's future. Several previous transactions have successfully implemented this type of structure and it merits study by the Board of Directors.

There are materially superior alternatives to the proposed transaction, and we hope that in addition to supporting one of the alternatives, Michael Dell would participate. If given the option, other existing shareholders could provide as much or more equity than Michael Dell currently proposes to do, which would lead to superior levels of equity contribution and more financial flexibility to serve Dell's customers and to grow.

We understand that given the restrictions the Board of Directors has imposed upon itself in connection with approving the ill-advised transaction announced on February 5, 2013, the Board of Directors would not be able to pursue the first two recapitalization alternatives stated above at this time. However, we are confident our fellow shareholders are as disappointed as we are with the proposed $13.65 per share price, and the Company could pursue such alternatives when the non-conflicted shareholders ultimately vote against the proposed transaction.

In closing we reiterate our opposition to the proposed Silver Lake transaction and have serious concerns about the Board of Director's approval, which penalizes shareholders by forcing them to exit at a significant discount to intrinsic value rather than adopting alternatives such as a recapitalization that would have better rewarded shareholders. We expect the Board of Directors to satisfy its fiduciary obligations to all shareholders and to consider superior alternatives that treat public shareholders fairly.

Sincerely,
