Today, Dell filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission the definitive proxy statement relating to the proposed acquisition of Dell by Michael and affiliates of Silver Lake.

The filing and subsequent mailing of the definitive proxy statement to Dell stockholders is an important next step in the transaction approval process, as it establishes a date for a Special Meeting of Stockholders to consider and vote on the proposed transaction. The Special Meeting will be held on Thursday, July 18, 2013 at 8:00 am Central time at the Dell Round Rock Campus.

As we've mentioned previously, the proxy statement details the rigorous process the Special Committee has followed since last August to evaluate Dell's current risks, opportunities and strategic alternatives. The document also addresses why the Special Committee believes the proposed transaction with Michael and Silver Lake, at $13.65 per share in cash, is fair to, and in the best interests of, the Company's stockholders.

An important section of the proxy statement outlines the investment priorities Michael and Silver Lake intend to pursue as a private company, including:

- 1) Extending our enterprise solutions and services capabilities through investments in research and development and additional acquisitions;
- 2) Hiring additional sales personnel to increase coverage and expand channel partnerships;
- 3) Expanding presence and ability to compete in emerging markets;
- 4) Investing for growth in the PC and tablet business; and,
- 5) Accelerating the delivery of an enhanced and simplified customer experience.

These priorities are aligned with our business strategy to deliver customer value through end-to-end scalable solutions that are efficient, simple and affordable. At the same time, we appreciate that the transformation we have embarked upon is a multi-year initiative, and, as part of that transformation we will continue to profitably grow our foundation, build our solutions portfolio and improve our customer reach and experience to position Dell for long-term success.

We understand you may have questions on the proposed transaction with Michael and Silver Lake, and we therefore have provided a brief FAQ below to address topics including the next steps in the approval process for the proposed transaction, timing for the completion of the proposed transaction and the alternative proposal made by Icahn and Southeastern for a leveraged recapitalization.

As always, we pledge to continue communicating with you in an open, honest and transparent manner.

We appreciate your patience, your continued engagement with customers and focus on delivering results. Thank you.

1. What is happening with the proposed transaction with Michael and Silver Lake?

- Today, Dell filed with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission the definitive proxy statement regarding the proposed transaction, in which Michael and Silver Lake Partners will acquire Dell and take it private.
- The filing and subsequent mailing of the definitive proxy statement to Dell stockholders is an important next step in the transaction approval process and sets a Special Meeting of Stockholders to consider and vote on the proposed transaction. The Special Meeting will be held on Thursday, July 18, 2013 at 8:00 am Central time at the Dell Round Rock Campus.

2. What is a proxy statement and why is it significant?

- In general, a proxy statement is a document required of any person or entity when soliciting stockholder votes. As an example, in advance of its annual meeting of stockholders, a company must file a proxy statement, otherwise known as a Definitive Proxy Statement (Form DEF 14A), with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission. Likewise, in the case of a go-private transaction, a company must file a proxy statement in advance of a special meeting of stockholders.
- As it relates to the proposed transaction with Michael and Silver Lake, the proxy statement details the rigorous process the Special Committee has followed, over a period of more than nine months, to evaluate Dell's current risks, opportunities and strategic alternatives.
- Importantly, the proxy statement addresses the history and background on the transaction, and why the Special Committee believes the transaction with Michael and Silver Lake, at $13.65 per share in cash, is fair to, and in the best interests of, Dell's public stockholders.

3. When is the Special Meeting of Stockholders to vote on the proposed transaction with Michael and Silver Lake?

- The Special Meeting of Stockholders will be held on Thursday, July 18, 2013 at 8:00 am Central time at the Dell Round Rock Campus.

- On May 13, the Special Committee responded by sending a letter to the Icahn organization and Southeastern Asset Management seeking clarifications and additional information related to the proposed leveraged recapitalization transaction in order to evaluate their non-binding proposal.

5. How many actual proposals are on the table?

- At this time no other proposals are on the table for alternative transactions to the transaction proposed by Michael and Silver Lake. The Special Committee has not changed its recommendation with respect to, and continues to support, the proposed transaction in which Michael and Silver Lake will acquire Dell and take the company private.

6. When will the proposed transaction with Michael and Silver Lake be completed?

- The Special Meeting of Stockholders will be held on Thursday, July 18, 2013 at 8:00 am Central time at the Dell Round Rock Campus.
- Assuming the requisite stockholder approvals are obtained at that meeting, closing the transaction will be subject to the satisfaction or waiver of additional closing conditions under the merger agreement (including certain antitrust approvals or clearances) and to the expiration of the marketing period for the buyers' debt financing, all of which may take additional time. We currently expect to close the transaction during the third quarter of Dell's FY14.

7. What does it mean to cease being a public company and operate as a private company?

- Our brand, purpose and values remain unchanged. You will still work for the same company with the same manager in the same building and serve the same customers.
- Upon closing of this transaction, which is subject to stockholder approvals and other customary closing conditions, Dell will be owned by Michael and Silver Lake, and shares of Dell will no longer be traded publicly.
- As a private company, our stock will no longer be traded on the NASDAQ stock exchange, ownership will no longer be available to public investors and we will no longer be subject to NASDAQ rules and regulations and public company reporting requirements.

8. How will the proposed transaction with Michael and Silver Lake impact our customers and partners?

- Nothing will change in the way we deliver for customers and partners. We will continue to deliver the superior solutions, services and experiences that they have come to expect, and assure you that support services and warranty support will not change.
